NEWSLETTER

Welcome to the CRES – Future Business Newsletter!

CRES – Centre for Research and European Studies – Future Business is a newly formed European non-profit Association founded by ten organizations from eight different countries. Currently, CRES brings together 31 organizations from 18 countries.

By pooling knowledge, expertise, and experience, we aim to foster innovative development in “future business” through collaboration among public and private universities, businesses, schools, and more.

We are excited to embark on this journey with you to introduce and celebrate the members who make up our community.

Each edition will spotlight a couple of different partners, showcasing their contributions, innovations, and roles within their field. Our goal is to foster deeper connections, facilitate collaboration, and highlight the diverse expertise that drives CRES forward.

Stay tuned for inspiring stories, insightful interviews, and updates that reflect the dynamic spirit of our partnership.

Thank you for being part of this exciting new chapter with CRES!
